Introduction:

The ULLAS Mela, organised by the Ministry of Education, Government of India, in collaboration with CNCL-NCERT and EdCIL (India) Ltd., was a testament to the nation's commitment towards achieving 100% literacy through the ULLAS: Nav Bharat Saaksharta Karyakram. Scheduled for the 6th and 7th of February, 2024 at the National Bal Bhavan, New Delhi, the event promised to be a showcase of national and state-level activities and achievements under the literacy program.

The Union Minister of Education and Skill Development & Entrepreneurship, Shri Dharmendra Pradhan, inaugurated the two-day ULLAS Mela on the 6th of February, 2024, at the National Bal Bhavan, New Delhi. Accompanying him was Smt. Annapurna Devi, the Union Minister of State for Education, who graced the event as the Special Guest. The dignitaries, including Shri Sanjay Kumar, Secretary of the Department of School Education & Literacy (DoSEL), Shri Atul Kumar Tiwari, Secretary of Skill Development & Entrepreneurship, Joint Secretary of DoSEL, Smt. Archana Sharma Awasthi, Director of NCERT, Prof. Dinesh Prasad Saklani, and In-charge of the Cell for National Centre for Literacy (CNCL), Smt. Usha Sharma, among others, were also present. The dignitaries took the opportunity to visit the exhibition stalls of CNCL, NCERT, and all the States/UTs, showcasing the resource materials developed by them.

Purpose and Objectives:

The primary aim of the ULLAS Mela was to felicitate neo-literates and volunteers teachers who have made exemplary contributions to the ULLAS scheme. Additionally, the event sought to provide a platform for States and UTs to exhibit their achievements, share best practices, panel discussion with neo-literates and VTs, experience sharing by the registered VTs and learners; and launch of state-specific resources such as concise primers, additional TLMs, documentary films and other audio-visual resources. Cultural programs were also staged to celebrate the rich diversity of India's cultural heritage.

Program Schedule:

The two-day event witnessed a plethora of activities aimed at promoting literacy and lifelong learning through ULLAS- Nav Bharat Saaksharta Karyakram. The schedule is at Annexure 1.

Here's a breakdown of the program schedule:

- ❖ Guidelines for the Development of Primers
- ❖ Learning Outcomes and Pedagogical Process
- ❖ ULLAS Primers/Margdarshika (States/UTs)
- ❖ Jingle on ULLAS (NCERT)
- ❖ ULLAS: Documentary Film (MoE)

Sharing of Experience: One volunteer teacher and two learners shared their experiences of how they feel after connecting with the ULLAS program.

Mandavi Soni, a dedicated D.El.Ed student from Madhya Pradesh, delivered an inspiring speech that is certain to motivate others to join the scheme. In her address, she shared the challenges she faced and the profound impact of her efforts. Mandavi emphasized, “I came across numerous challenges during this journey. I went door-to-door to encourage non-literates to enrol in the scheme. Convincing villagers, whose mind-set is still traditional, was particularly difficult. Initially, they viewed me as eccentric. However, after persistent efforts, they understood my intentions and eventually joined the ULLAS scheme. It is delightful to see some villagers now coming to my home for education. This opportunity is a lifetime blessing, and I am grateful for it. My heartfelt thanks to the Prime Minister and Education Minister for launching schemes like ULLAS, which have provided me with this platform to become a Volunteer Teacher.”

Somwati Behrwa, a determined learner from Rajasthan, shared her inspiring journey. She recounted, “I come from an underprivileged family and got married at a very young age. Due to financial difficulties, I had to work as a labourer. It was there that I met a teacher named Sarita, who encouraged me to pursue education. Initially hesitant, I eventually took up her challenge to dedicate at least one hour daily to study. I enrolled in the ULLAS-Nav Bharat Saaksharta Karyakram, which became a turning point in my life. Thanks to the program, I can now count money and handle small transactions. I feel a newfound sense of independence, knowing that I can now accomplish tasks I once relied on others for.”

Balwinder Singh, a learner from Punjab, expressed his joy in being a part of the ULLAS-Nav Bharat Saaksharta Karyakram. He shared, “I come from a family where education was a luxury. Most of my relatives, including myself, couldn't attend school as we had to shoulder responsibilities at a young age. However, since joining the ULLAS scheme, I feel empowered. I can now confidently use a mobile phone, visit the bank to withdraw money, fill out a cheque, and even place online orders. These skills have opened up a world of possibilities for me. All thanks to the Prime Minister and Education Minister for introducing ULLAS to our lives.”

Address by Hon'ble Chief Guest: Sh. Dharmendra Pradhan Ji, Union Minister of Education and Skill Development & Entrepreneurship

Vote of Thanks by Prof. Usha Sharma, In-charge CNCL, NCERT

Key Messages from Dignitaries:

Shri Dharmendra Pradhan, Union Minister of Education and Skill Development & Entrepreneurship: Addressing the attendees, Hon'ble Shiksha Mantri ji emphasised the crucial role of achieving 100% literacy in realising the vision of Viksit Bharat. He highlighted how the ULLAS program is bringing new opportunities to individuals who previously lacked access to education, making them proficient in essential subjects alongside Foundational Literacy and Numeracy. Hon'ble Shiksha Mantri ji urged widespread participation in the program, proposing that students could earn credit points under the new credit architecture by assisting others in becoming literate. He emphasized the importance of simplifying and enjoying the teaching and learning process, suggesting that teaching methods should be designed based on learners' preferences and needs. Hon'ble Shiksha Mantri ji also advocated for a knowledge distribution system based on sports, folk language, and daily work-related activities. He praised states that have adopted play-based models of learning, making education more accessible and enjoyable. Additionally, he suggested organising workshops for experts to develop resource materials and integrating them with skilling initiatives. He expressed that the scheme lays the foundation for a Viksit Bharat and underscored the crucial role that literacy plays in realising this vision, as envisioned by our respected Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi Ji. Under the scheme, a dedicated app named ULLAS has been created. Hon'ble Shiksha Mantri Ji recommended that all States/UTs should use the app to register Volunteer Teachers and Learners.

Shri Sanjay Kumar, Secretary, Department of School Education and Literacy (DosEL), MoE: In his address, Shri Sanjay Kumar underscored the importance of the National Education Policy 2020, highlighting its emphasis on Foundational Literacy and Numeracy for every child. He emphasized the spirit of volunteerism in the ULLAS program and mentioned that over 40 lakh neo-literates have participated in evaluation for literacy. Shri Sanjay Kumar highlighted that ULLAS not only focuses on digital and financial literacy but also imparts important life-saving skills. As many adult education schemes have been introduced in the past but not resulted in the desired outcomes, there was an urgent need for a fresh approach and momentum. In response to this, ULLAS is all set to bring joy to the lives of those aged 15 and above who have been unable to fulfil their dream of attending school; implemented through hybrid mode using technology and employing 'Volunteerism' through 'कर्तव्य बोध' to inspire volunteers.

He urged everyone to identify individuals who missed the opportunity for literacy and support initiatives aimed at achieving 100 percentage literacy for all.

Ms. Archana Sharma Awasthi, Joint Secretary, department of School Education and Literacy (DoSEL), MoE:

In her address, she highlighted the significant progress of the ULLAS scheme. Substantial Teaching Initially known as NILP, under the stewardship of Hon'ble Education Minister, the scheme has evolved into ULLAS- Nav Bharat Saaksharta Karyakram, gaining renown as a substantial and impactful initiative.

Further, a dedicated app – ULLAS App has been developed. States/UTs have registered their learners and volunteer teachers on this platform. Today marks a proud moment, with over 1 crore learners and 30 lakh VTs registered on the ULLAS App. All States/UTs should ensure that all registrations occur through the app in the future.

Recognizing the States/UTs' desire to operate the scheme fully digitally or online, they have been given the flexibility to implement the scheme in online, offline, or hybrid modes upon request.

Schools and colleges' students can play a vital role in making ULLAS successful, recognising their responsibility towards the nation. Each student should strive to teach at least one learner, contributing to our goal of achieving 100 percent literacy. TEIs, with approximately 20 lakh students nationwide, have directed their students to teach a maximum of 8 to 10 students annually.

A special thanks was given to the Secretary, Department of School Education & Literacy for his expert guidance and direction. She laid out a plan of action that the remaining three years of the scheme should reflect three times the progress achieved so far.
